Elevators

- ❖ An elevator is a type of vertical transport equipment. Elevators are generally powered by electric motors that either drive traction cables or counterweight systems like a hoist.
- ❖ A modern elevator consists of a cage or car mounted on a platform within an enclosed space called a shaft.

Escalators

- ❖ An Escalator is a moving staircase — a conveyor transport device for carrying people between floors of a building.
- ❖ The device consists of a motor-driven chain of individual, linked steps that move up or down on tracks, allowing the step treads to remain horizontal.
- ❖ Escalators are used around the world to move pedestrian traffic in places where elevators would be impractical.
- ❖ Principal areas of usage include department stores, shopping malls, airports, transit systems, convention centers, hotels, arenas, stadiums and public buildings.
